Morehouse College

Morehouse College, in the city of Atlanta, Georgia, is operated by the American Baptist Home Mission Society, of New York, for the education of Negro young men, with special reference to the preparation of ministers and teachers.

History

The College was organized in the year 1867, in the city of Augusta, Georgia, under the name of "THE AUGUSTA INSTITUTE." In 1879, under the presidency of Rev. Joseph T. Robert, LL.D. (1871-1884), it was removed to Atlanta and incorporated under the name "ATLANTA BAPTIST SEMINARY." At this stage of its growth the institution owned only one building, that a comparatively small three-story structure, located near what is now the Terminal Station. President Robert was succeeded by President Samuel Graves, D.D., in 1885. Dr. Graves served as president until 1890, continuing as Professor of Theology for four years longer. In 1889, as the surroundings of the old location in Atlanta had become unfavorable, a new site was secured, and in the spring of 1890 the school was removed to its present location. In the autumn of this year President George Sale (1890-1906) entered upon his duties. In 1897 amendments to the charter were secured, granting full college powers and changing the name of the institution to

"ATLANTA BAPTIST COLLEGE." In 1906 President Sale resigned to become Superintendent of Education of the American Baptist Home Mission Society, and he was succeeded by President John Hope, who had been a professor on the faculty since 1898. By a vote in 1912 of the Board of Trustees, concurred in by the American Baptist Home Mission Society, and by a change in 1913 of the charter granted by the State of Georgia, the name of the institution became "MOREHOUSE COLLEGE," in honor of Rev. Henry L. Morehouse, D.D., Corresponding Secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Society and the constant friend and benefactor of the Negro race. In the fall of 1918 the College became affiliated with the general organization of the Students Army Training Corps.

Campus

The campus is thirteen acres in extent. It occupies one of the highest points of land in the city, 1,100 feet above sea-level, and commands a fine view of the city and surrounding country. For beauty and healthfulness the situation could not be surpassed. The property is on West Fair Street, at the junction of Chestnut Street, within half an hour's walk from the post-office and railroad stations. Electric cars marked "West Fair—Lee Street" leave the corner of Broad and Marietta Streets, and the Terminal Station, every twenty minutes, direct for the college.

Buildings

Graves Hall, erected in 1889, at a cost of $28,000, and named in honor of President Graves, is the chief college dormitory. The building has four stories above the basement, is beautifully faced with white marble, and is lighted by electricity.

Quarles Hall, erected in 1898 at a cost of $14,000, and named in honor of Rev. Frank Quarles, for many years pastor of Friendship Baptist Church, Atlanta, and president of the Georgia Baptist Convention from its organization until his death, contains the class-rooms in which the work of the English Preparatory Department is done. The entire third floor is devoted to science work, one room being a well-supplied chemical laboratory, one a physical laboratory, another a biological laboratory, and a fourth a lecture room.

Sale Hall, erected at a cost of $40,000 and occupied in October, 1910, is named in honor of President George Sale. It has a well lighted and ventilated basement with two rooms. One, containing the Manual Training Shop, is fitted with benches and sets of tools for instruction in wood-working; the other, a gymnasium, has shower-baths supplied with hot and cold water. The building is three stories above basement and contains recitation rooms for Divinity School, College, and Academy, a reception room, offices, library, and a beautiful chapel with a seating capacity of seven hundred. Connected with this building is a central heating plant.

The large demands made on Graves Hall have for years rendered the need for another dormitory imperative. Robert Hall is the outgrowth of this demand. This building was completed in 1916 at a total cost of $30,000. The basement floor is used as a dining-room. The three main floors above are devoted wholly to dormitory purposes, there being one or two suites for teachers. The size and proportion of the rooms, and the electric lighting and other conveniences, render this in every way one of the most satisfactory college dormitories in the South.

A new three-story Science building has been erected this year at a cost of $100,000.00. This building is devoted exclusively to uses of the departments of Chemistry, Physics, Biology and Geology. Ample lecture rooms, laboratories and apparatus rooms are all included in the building. On the first floor are laboratories for Qualitative and Quantitative Chemistry, and store rooms. On the second floor are the Physical Laboratories, together with a large laboratory for Organic, Industrial and Electro-Chemistry. On the third floor are the Biological Laboratories with museum, greenhouse, aquarium and lecture room equipped for stereopticon and motion pictures. There are private laboratories, a science library, instructors' offices, a combustion room and other conveniences. This building affords every opportunity for the work of the departments for which it is designed and greatly increases the efficiency of the college.

In addition to these buildings there are others for special purposes. The President's residence is a beautiful two-story brick house of a style of architecture in harmony with that of the larger buildings.

A new athletic field has been made this year and is now in use. This field in the rear of Graves Hall has ample facilities for football, baseball, tennis and track sports.

SUPPORT

Morehouse College is conducted under the auspices of the American Baptist Home Mission Society of the Northern states. For its main support it depends upon a yearly grant from the funds of the Society.

Cook Memorial Chair

A fund of $20,000, a portion of the bequest of Mr. Josiah W. Cook, of Cambridge, Mass., has been set apart for the endowment of the President's chair under the name of "The Cook Memorial Chair."

Student Labor and Beneficiary Fund

This fund depends for its support upon contributions from churches, societies, and individuals. There is need of large additions to this fund in order to extend the usefulness of the college. The President will gladly correspond with churches, individuals, Sunday schools, and young people's societies with reference to this fund.

Current Expenses

For current expenses of each session, the College is dependent upon the fees paid by students for board, tuition, etc.

Need of Endowment

The location of the school is most excellent; the buildings are substantial and well-built, and are kept in thorough repair. So far as grounds and buildings are concerned, these have been secured with a view to permanence. The character of the work done and the increasing efficiency of every department insure the highest and most lasting results in the lives of the students and those among whom they labor. There is need of substantial endowment to relieve the burden upon the Home Mission Society, and to insure the permanence of the College. Money so invested will yield rich returns in good accomplished by the College.

GENERAL ADVANTAGES

Library

The library now contains over three thousand volumes. It is situated in Sale Hall and is supplied with a judicious selection of newspapers and magazines. Valuable additions have been made during the year, and new works are constantly being added. All students have daily access to the library. The college is grateful at all times for gifts that help to increase the resources and facilities of the Library.

Religious Privileges

This is emphatically a Christian school. The faculty keeps constantly in mind the fact that it was founded by a missionary organization, and is sustained by the contributions of Christian people for the Christian education of young men. While, therefore, we seek to give the best possible instruction in the literary and industrial branches, stress is placed upon moral training and the development of consecrated workers. Self-mastery, symmetrical character, high ideals and purposes are regarded as the chief ends of education.

Special attention is given to the spiritual needs of the student. The Bible has a place in the regular course of study. In the life and discipline of the school, constant effort is made to inculcate Christian principles.

Besides the daily morning and evening devotions, religious exercises are held as follows: Sunday, 1:30 P. M., Y. M. C. A.; 7:00 P. M., Preaching Service; Thursday, 6:45 P. M., Prayer-Meeting. These meetings have always proved a source of great blessing in the quickening of spiritual life among the students.

Students are allowed to attend the Sunday schools and the day services in the city churches on Sundays.

Care of Health

Constant watchcare is maintained over the health of the students. The College has recently purchased and remodeled a residence and this building is now in use as an infirmary, where all sick students are under the direct care of a trained nurse.

Student Activities

There are several societies and student organizations connected with the College. The Young Men's Christian Association, for the spiritual improvement of the members and for religious work, is one of the most active organizations in the institution. It meets weekly, and under its direction numbers of students are assigned work in the various churches and Sunday schools of the city. Opportunity is thus afforded students for practical Christian work outside the College. The Bible Band also meets once a week. The Ministers' Union is an organization composed of members of the Divinity School; its object is generally to discuss subjects of interest to those looking forward to the ministry as a profession. The Pi Gamma Literary Society is composed of students of collegiate grade in Morehouse College and Spelman Seminary. It seeks general improvement along literary lines, and its meetings are held once a month. The Athenæum Publishing Company publishes each month during the school year The Athenæum, the organ of the alumni and students of Morehouse College and Spelman Seminary. Two debating societies, the College Debating Society and the Academic Debating Society, meet every other week. Under the supervision of the faculty, intercollegiate debating is allowed and encouraged. For seven years Morehouse College engaged in a triangular contest each year with Knoxville College and Talladega College. 1919 the Triangular League was enlarged by admitting Fisk University and forming the Quadrangular Debating League. The Science and Mathematics Club furnishes excellent opportunities to those interested in all scientific development. The Glee Club and the Orchestra, both under the general direction of the Instructor in Music, offer peculiar opportunities to those who wish to improve in singing and in the use of musical instruments. The Athletic Association, a student organization, generally directs the energies of its members along the lines of football, baseball, basket-ball, and tennis. It also encourages track meets and, from time to time, in conference with the faculty Director of Athletics, it arranges intercollegiate contests in the various divisions of athletics. Generally, Morehouse College encourages all activities—religious, literary, athletic—which make for the development of Christian ideals and for the culture of a sound mind in a sound body.

GOVERNMENT

Admission

All students must furnish satisfactory testimonials respecting their moral character and habits. If they come from other schools they are required to present certificates of reputable dismissal and records of their class work from the proper authorities.

While students may enter later, it is very important that they be present on the first day of the school year, that no time be lost in commencing work.

Students from a distance are required to board at the college building.

Examinations and Promotions

On entering the college, students are examined for classification. Care is exercised to place the student where he can work to the best advantage. Examinations are held at the close of each half of the school year. Upon the results of these examinations, with those of the daily recitations, promotions are determined.

Rules

In the regulation of the conduct of the student, it is the aim of the faculty to govern by principles rather than rules. All requirements are based on the Golden Rule, "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them." Regulations exist for the good of the student to secure to him in the highest possible degree the end for which he comes to college. The aim is to produce self-control, and to secure the cheerful acquiescence of the student in rules that are made for the good of all.

With these ends in view, regularity and punctuality at all regular exercises are required; absence from the grounds is permitted only by special excuse of the teachers; hours set apart for study are to be sacredly observed, and students are required to retire at a stated hour.

Correct personal habits are inculcated; cleanliness and neatness are required; the use of intoxicating liquors and tobacco and the possession of firearms or other dangerous weapons are forbidden. College sports and games are allowed and encouraged under restrictions that prevent danger to health and neglect of regular school duties. In general, such watchfulness is maintained as will insure, as far as possible, good health, progress in study, and the development of manly qualities and moral character.

Remittances should be made to the President by money order, registered letter, or by express.

Parents are advised to remit direct to the President.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarships are offered for competition in all years of the Academic and Elementary courses, and in the first three years of the Collegiate course. These scholarships are given for proficiency in class-room work and examinations.

In the Collegiate course the scholarships offered are as follows: In each of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes one scholarship of $25 and one of $20.

In the Academic course the scholarships offered are as follows: In the fourth year one scholarship of $25 and one of $20; in the third year one scholarship of $25; in the second year one of $20; and in the first year one of $12. In each case the amount is to be placed to the credit of the winner, and is to be applied in payment of fees for the year for which the scholarship is held.

These scholarships are given on condition that the holders be present, and that they maintain uniformly good deportment for the full term for which the scholarship is held. No scholarship is awarded to one whose yearly average is less than 80.

Ripley Scholarship

By the will of the late Mrs. Ann Oswald Ripley, widow of the Rev. Henry Ripley, D.D., of Newton Center, Mass., a scholarship of $40 a year has been established in Morehouse College for the benefit of those who have the ministry in view.

Affiliated Academy Scholarships

By vote of the American Baptist Home Mission Society, the following Academies, aided yearly by the society, are affiliated with Morehouse College: Americus Institute, Americus, Ga.; Jeruel Academy, Athens, Ga.; Walker Baptist Institute, Augusta, Ga.;

Florida Institute, Live Oak, Fla.; Florida Baptist Academy, Jacksonville, Fla. A first scholarship of $25 is offered each year to the student in the Senior Class of these Academies taking highest rank, and entering Morehouse College. A second scholarship of $20 under similar conditions is awarded at each institution. The amount of the scholarship is to apply to the payment of fees, and to be payable on the same conditions as those offered in the College classes.

PRIZES

Through the kindness of Mr. Willard D. Chamberlin, of Dayton, Ohio, two cash prizes of thirty dollars each are awarded each year for the encouragement of the Willard Chamberlin Scripture Reading Prize and the Samuel Graves Scripture Recitation Prize. They are open for competition to students in any department of the school.

For several years Mr. F. J. Paxon, of Atlanta, has kindly given each year the sum of fifteen dollars for prizes in public speaking. Ten dollars is awarded each year to that student in the College who delivers the best oration, and five dollars to that student in the Academy who delivers the best reading or declamation.

For several years Pres. J. J. Starks, A.B., '98, of Sumter, S. C., has offered a prize of ten dollars to be awarded to that student in the Academy or College who shall from his record during the school year be deemed the best man of affairs and the most helpful Christian gentleman as well as a faithful student.

For the last eight years Mr. Joseph D. Avent, A.B., '07, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has offered a prize of ten dollars to be known as the Edgar Allan Poe Short Story Prize and to be awarded to that student in the College who shall write the best original short story.

The Divinity School

Faculty

JOHN HOPE, A.M., LL.D.
President.

CATLETT C. SMITH, A.M., D.D.,
Professor of Systematic Theology.

CHARLES D. HUBERT, A.B.,
Professor of Church History.

EDWIN P. JOHNSON, A.B., D.D.,
Professor of Pastoral Theology.

The Divinity School, though a department of the College, is quite distinct in its organization and work. With the exception of the President, the instructors devote their time exclusively to the subjects of the Divinity Course. The aim of the school is to build up and strengthen the Christian ministry and thus furnish our churches with godly men well equipped for this work.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Four courses are offered: The course for Bachelor of Divinity, the course for Bachelor of Theology, the course for a Diploma, and the Pastor's course.

Bachelor of Divinity

For entrance upon this course, one must be a graduate of an approved academy. The course of study is as follows:

DIVINITY COURSE

First Year

FIRST TERM	SECOND TERM
Homiletics (The Choice and the use of Texts) 5	Homiletics (Sermonic Outlines and Criticism) 5

Bachelor of Theology Course

For entrance to this course, the requirements are the same as for the B.D. course, except that Greek is not required. The course is the same as the B.D. course, except that English Interpretation takes the place of Greek and Hebrew.

Course for Diploma

The course for a diploma is the same as that for B.Th. The only requirement for entrance upon this course, however, is a good degree of proficiency in spoken and written English.

In order to secure degrees or diplomas students must be in attendance during three full years and must pass satisfactory examinations on all the prescribed subjects.

The Pastor's Course

This course is for one year and in general is designed to meet the needs of pastors in service. The plan of study for the year follows that of the first year of the Divinity Course.

The Divinity School will open for the session of 1920-21 on Tuesday, October 4, 1921, and will close on Wednesday, May 31, 1922. No charge is made for tuition. Text-books are purchased at the College. Students occupying rooms in the College building are subject to the same regulations as to discipline, etc., as obtain for all other departments.

Address all inquiries to the President. College catalogues will be sent on application.

Entrance

Students who look forward to entering the College should fill out as fully as possible the application blank which will be furnished by the College office. The requirement for entrance upon the work of the College is the satisfactory completion of the work of the Academy outlined on pages 44-46. In general it may be said that Morehouse College insists upon the minimum of fifteen units for entrance upon College work required by reputable colleges throughout the country. A unit in any subject represents a year's study, constituting approximately a quarter of a full year's work in the secondary school. The four-year high school course is taken as a basis, and it is assumed that the length of the school year is from thirty-six to forty weeks, that a recitation period is from forty to sixty minutes in length, and that a study is pursued for four or five periods a week. In all cases except those of students from specially affiliated schools, or from other institutions in the Association of Colleges for Negro Youth, of which Morehouse College is a member, the College reserves the right to examine as fully as may seem necessary all candidates who present themselves for entrance.

Requirements for Degree

The requirement for graduation is the satisfactory completion of the work of eighteen courses. A course is the pursuit of one subject throughout a school year, with four recitations a week. A half-course is a subject similarly pursued for half a year, or a subject pursued throughout a school year with two recitations a week.

On the basis of 18 courses required, in each year a student should pass in an average of four and one-half courses; and no man is catalogued with a class if delinquent in more than one full course.

Each program of study for the college course must be so arranged as to include a Major of four courses from some one of five important groups or divisions of study, and a Minor of three courses from some other group or division. The following are the five groups used:

1. The Classics.

2. Modern Language (including English; but English 5, an elementary course in composition required of all students, while counting of course as one of the college courses, will not count as satisfying this elective principle). (English 6, though required of all, may also count with the electives.)

3. Natural Science.

4. History, Political and Social Science.

5. Philosophy and Mathematics.

In addition each program of study must include the following:

1. At least one course in English Composition.

2. One course in English Literature.

3. One course in Modern Language other than English.

4. One course in Mathematics.
5. One course in Natural Science.
6. One course in Social Science.
7. One course in History.
8. One course in Philosophy (Psychology is prerequisite to Ethics).

In fulfillment of the above requirements the following courses are regularly open to Freshmen if their previous preparation is adequate:

English 5	German 2
Latin 5	History 1, 2 or 3
Greek 2	Mathematics 1, 2, 3, or 4.
Greek 3	Chemistry 2
French 1	Bible 4
German 1

After the Freshman year students may in any year enter any courses for which their preparation is adequate and which will be in harmony with the principle of Major and Minor already remarked. In the detailed description of courses that follows, the prerequisites for the more advanced courses are stated in each case. Certain courses (notably Ethics, Economics, Sociology, History 4, and Education) are regularly reserved for students of Junior or Senior grade.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

English

ENGLISH 5. (The number of the course, for convenience, follows on the numbers of courses in the Academy.) In the work of this course, which is required of all Freshmen, the emphasis is on practical work in composition. The large aim of the course is the development of power in expression. Attention is given to the theory of Description, Narration, Exposition, and Argumentation; but at least five-sixths of the lessons of the year are assignments in composition. Papers range in length from 200 to 2,000 words. In addition to numerous smaller themes in each of the large fields mentioned, and including the writing of anecdotes, news items, editorials, and sketches, each member of the course is required to write a short story, a full piece of work in exposition, two orations, two long briefs, one forensic, and two book reviews. Necessarily most of the reading consists of library assignments, but the following texts are required: Foster's Argumentation and Debating; Cairns's Forms of Discourse; Erskine's Written English; Shakespeare's The Tempest; and the classics in Maynard's English Classic Series giving Macaulay's Essay on Byron, De Quincey's Joan of Arc, and selections from Ruskin's Modern Painters.

PROFESSOR MILTON.

ENGLISH 6. This course covers in broad outline the field of English Literature from Anglo-Saxon times to the present. The method of study emphasizes detail and technique as well as appreciation. Texts: Manly's Prose and Poetry (subject to change in 1920-21), and Shakespeare's The Two Gentlemen of Verona, and Othello, the one to represent the dramatist in his experimental period, and the other to represent him as a finished artist. Papers are called for at any time. The course is required before graduation and is given every year.

PROFESSOR STRONG.

In addition to the above courses in English, which are required of all students, the department offers three elective courses, any one of which will be given in any year in which not less than five students apply for the same. These are as follows:

ENGLISH 7. The Forms of Public Address, an advanced course in composition with special attention to oratory, debating, and practical public speaking. Text: Baker's "The Forms of Public Address." Prerequisite: English 5; may be taken in same year as English 6. (To be offered every year.)

PROFESSOR MILTON.

ENGLISH 8. The English Drama, a course requiring the rapid reading of not less than fifty plays, with intensive study of one or two. More than half of Shakespeare's plays are read, with special attention to dramatic technique. One long paper on some subject in connection with the course is required in the first term; in the second term, in addition to the reading, one original play is to be planned in detail and one act of the same fully written out. Among the texts are Manly's Specimens of the Pre-Shakespearean Drama and Thayer's Best Elizabethan Plays; but most of the plays studied are in single editions. Prerequisites: English 5 and 6. (Not given in 1919-20; to be given in 1920-21.)

PROFESSOR MILTON.

ENGLISH 9. The History of the English Language, a course concerned with grammatical questions and giving an introduction to philology, to be taken to best advantage by those who have had as much Latin, Greek, French, and German as possible. Considerable attention is paid to Chaucer and other early writers, and in general the course is planned only for those who wish to pursue English technically. Prerequisites: English 5 and 6. (Not offered in 1919-20; to be given whenever there are at least five applicants.)

PROFESSOR MILTON.

Greek

The courses in Greek are designed to follow upon the course in elementary Greek in the Academy; but Greek 2 will not count for college credit unless the program of preparatory work offered for college entrance includes both Physics and Chemistry.

GREEK 2. Xenophon's Anabasis, 4 Books, with practice in composition.

PROFESSOR J. W. JOHNSON.

GREEK 3. Plato's Apology and Crito, and Homer's Iliad, 3 books.

PRESIDENT HOPE.

GREEK 4. Homer's Odyssey, 2 Books, Sophocles's Antigone, and Demosthenes's Philippics.

PRESIDENT HOPE.

Latin

The work in Latin is designed to follow upon that in the Academy, and courses are numbered accordingly.

LATIN 5. In this course the reading consists of Cicero's De Senectute, Livy, Book XXI, and Horace's Odes.

LATIN 6. In this course the ground covered consists of further reading in Horace, Tacitus's Germania, and Terence's Phormio, with study of Roman life.

PROFESSOR DENSLow.

German

GERMAN 1. In the first year attention is given mainly to the mastering of elementary German grammar. To increase the student's vocabulary of conversational words and idiomatic expressions, some easy text dealing with German life and customs is read during the second semester, and conversation is based upon this. Songs and poems are memorized. German is used in the classroom as far as practicable.

PROFESSOR DENSLow.

GERMAN 2. In the second year one short story and one of Schiller's classics are read. The study of German grammar is continued. Stories are told in German which form the basis of composition.

Conversation is used as far as practicable in the classroom.

PROFESSOR DENSLOW.

French

FRENCH 1. A course in elementary French giving a thorough drill in the elements of grammar and composition, followed by the reading of graded selections of connected French prose, the general aim being to afford a basis for a good reading knowledge of the French language. Texts: Aldrich and Foster's Elementary French, and French Reader.

PROFESSOR DENSLOW.

FRENCH 2. This is mainly a reading course devoted to the study of several standard French texts of intermediate grade, including at least one novel and one play. Familiarity with the language is facilitated by conversation, dictation, and original composition.

PROFESSOR MOORE.

Mathematics

The aim of instruction in this department is to form habits of accurate and precise expression, to develop the power of independent and logical thinking, and to teach the methods and principles of each subject.

MATHEMATICS 1. This is a half-course in Solid Geometry. It makes clear the concepts of three-dimensional space. Industrial problems and concrete applications are given to show the use and value of the fundamental theorems. Required as early in the college course as possible. Text: Wentworth and Smith's Solid Geometry, revised.

PROFESSOR ARCHER.

MATHEMATICS 2. This, a half-course in College Algebra, after a rapid review of quadratic equations, considers higher equations and systems, the progressions, the binomial theorem, logarithms, interest and annuities, and the series. Required as early in the college course as possible. Text: Wentworth's College Algebra, revised.

PROFESSOR ARCHER.

MATHEMATICS 3. The half-course in Trigonometry extends through the solution of triangles. The course aims to give the fundamental formulæ of trigonometry and a permanent command of logarithms. Required as early as possible in the college course. Text: Wells' new Plane Trigonometry.

PROFESSOR ARCHER.

MATHEMATICS 4. An elective half-course in Analytic Geometry gives the different systems of plane co-ordinates; equation of loci, straight lines, conic sections and their elementary properties; equations of second degree; common higher plane curves. Text: Tauner and Allen.

PROFESSOR ARCHER.

History

Five half-courses in History are offered, all being open to students above the Freshman year. Two are required, and the two must include History 1. Ordinarily two or three are given in a semester.

HISTORY 1. A half-course in the Foundations of Modern Europe. The work follows in general the plan of Trenholme's A Syllabus for the History of Western Europe. Matters purely political and military are given less attention than is ordinarily given to them in more elementary courses. More stress is laid upon territorial changes, constitutional developments, internal reforms, and other economic and social phenomena. At least one thesis of not less than four thousand words upon some topic assigned in connection with the course is required of each student. Text: Robinson's Mediæval and Modern History (together with the abridged edition of the Readings by the same author.) PROFESSOR CURRY.

HISTORY 2. An advanced half-course in English History. Text: Cross's A History of England. PROFESSOR CURRY.

HISTORY 3. A half course in American History. The work is intended to be advanced and intensive. Emphasis is placed on the social, economic and political questions of the times. The chief text is Bassett's "Short History of the United States." This is supplemented by required readings, reports and lectures. PROFESSOR CURRY.

HISTORY 4. A half-course in the essentials of the history of the Negro in America. In general method the plan of the work follows that of the chief text, Brawley's A Short History of the American Negro (revised edition); but much attention is paid to the same author's The Negro in Literature and Art, and there is wide reading in such authorities in history as Du Bois, Blake, and Williams. A thesis is required, and in general the work is designed to meet the needs of those who desire training in independent study.

PROFESSOR CURRY.

HISTORY 5. A half-course dealing with recent and contemporary European history. Special emphasis is placed upon European expansion in South America, Africa, and the Far East. Text: Robinson and Beard's The Development of Modern Europe, vols. I and II.

PROFESSOR CURRY.

HISTORY 6. A half course in American Constitutional History to 1860. In this course particular attention is given to the origin and development of the Federal and State Constitutions, the interpretation of the Federal Constitution by the several departments and the States, in connection with the chief Constitutional issues of the time, with especial reference to the conflict over "States' Rights" and "Nationalism" and the Constitutional issues arising from the slavery controversy and the secession movement. Required readings, recitations, lectures and reports. Prerequisites: History III.

PROFESSOR CURRY.

Social Sciences.

SOCIOLOGY I. A full course in the Principles of Sociology, conducted by means of class discussions, assigned readings, lectures, and field work. It aims primarily to acquaint the student with the theories of social progress, the factors and forces now at work in society, and the structure and functions of the most important social institutions. The first half is taken up with general sociological principles, while the second is given over mainly to a study of the family, the church and other social institutions.

PROFESSOR MOORE.

SOCIOLOGY II. A half course in Modern Social Problems designed primarily to acquaint the student with the leading national, urban and rural problems connected with present-day social life and with the most effective means employed for their solution. Immigration, the American color question, poverty, and crime are given special emphasis.

PROFESSOR MOORE.

SOCIOLOGY III. A half-course in Statistics. This course is devoted principally to the elementary principles of statistics and their application and to the methods of collecting and presenting materials in social surveys. It covers averages, index numbers, measures of variations from averages, comparisons, and tabular and graphic presentation. Each student is required to take part in a survey of some phase of social life in or about Atlanta.

PROFESSOR MOORE.

*College students especially interested in social problems are permitted to elect and receive credit for the following courses given at the college under the auspices of the Atlanta School of Social Service:

1. SOCIAL CASE WORK—One-Half Course.
2. MEDICAL-SOCIAL PROBLEMS — One-Half Course.

ECONOMICS. A full course, conducted by means of class discussions, assigned readings, and lectures. The aim is to acquaint the student with the development and significance of the industrial organization of society, the principles governing the consumption, production, and distribution of wealth, and such representative economic problems as labor movements and legislation, taxation, transportation, etc. The course is made thoroughly practical by directing the attention and thought of students to current economic problems and activities. Special emphasis is placed upon the economic history and activities of the Negro in American Life. Text: Seager's Introduction to Economics.

PROFESSOR MOORE.

Government.

GOVERNMENT I. An advanced half course in American Government and Politics, covering national, state and local political organization. Text: Beard's American Government and Politics.

PROFESSOR MOORE.

GOVERNMENT II. A half course in European Governments. This course aims to give a knowledge of political institutions as they actually operate in European countries. Although the governments of Europe in general are studied, special emphasis is placed on England, France, Italy, Switzerland and Germany.

PROFESSOR MOORE.

GOVERNMENT III. A half course in the Principles of Government. This course aims to acquaint the student with the general principles underlying government. It deals with the state, sovereignty, constitution, representation, relation between executive and legislature, etc. Considerable attention is also given to present tendencies of political thought and change in America and Europe.

PROFESSOR MOORE.

GOVERNMENT IV. A half course in International Law. This course is viewed from the standpoint of its nature and sources, its great principles governing states in their normal relations, its law governing states in relation of war and its violations during the World War. Especial attention is given to the Doctrine of Neutrality in ancient and modern times with reference to blockades contraband of war and unneutral service. The chief text is Davis' "Elements of International Law." Prerequisites: History I. American Government or History III.

PROFESSOR MOORE.

Philosophy

In Logic and Psychology half-courses are given, and in Ethics a full course is given, as follows:

LOGIC. The outlines of formal Logic are studied with special attention to terms and their meaning, to the logical import of propositions with a view to inculcating accuracy of statement, and to analysis of arguments and detection of fallacies.

PROFESSOR ALSTON.

PSYCHOLOGY. The course takes up the nervous system; sensation and organs of sense; the facts of consciousness studied from the natural science point of view; perception, memory, imagination, emotion, the will, and the relation of Psychology to Philosophy and Ethics. Text: Angell's Psychology.

PROFESSOR ALSTON.

ETHICS. The subject of Ethics is treated historically, and the various types of ethical theory traced in their development from ancient times. Search is made for the elements of truth in all theories, and the superiority of the ethics of Christianity is shown. Prerequisite: Psychology. PROFESSOR ALSTON.

Education

In connection with the Teachers' Professional Department of Spelman Seminary, a full course in the subjects of Education and Pedagogy is given. The first half of the year is devoted to the History of Education; the second half is devoted to Pedagogy.

English Bible

BIBLE 4. In the Freshman Year a half-course in the study of the English Bible is required.

PROFESSOR HUBERT.

Physics

PHYSICS 2. About one-half the time is given to class discussions, lecture-table demonstrations, quizzes, and problems; the rest to laboratory work. During the first term emphasis is laid upon mechanics, molecular physics, and heat, followed in the second term by electricity, sound, and light. The method of treatment is analytical. The course presupposes a full course in Descriptive Physics and one in Trigonometry. Text: Kimball's College Physics.

PROFESSOR HARVEY.

Chemistry

CHEMISTRY 2. Qualitative Analysis. It is the object of this course to give a definite idea of the fundamental laws of General Chemistry with special reference to their application in Qualitative Analysis. The subject matter is discussed in the combined lectures, recitations, and quizzes. The laboratory work includes the study and use of different methods used in the qualitative analysis of simple and mixed solutions and solids. Chemistry 1 or its equivalent is a prerequisite.

PROFESSOR HARVEY.

CHEMISTRY 3. Quantitative Analysis. In this course the study of the fundamental laws of General Chemistry is continued with emphasis on those of importance in Quantitative Analysis. A short course in Chemical Arithmetic will be given during the second semester. The laboratory work includes all the simple determination and separation of the common metals and acids by both gravimetric and volumetric methods and some electro-chemical methods. A short course in applied chemistry will also be completed during the second semester. Prerequisite: Chemistry 2.

PROFESSOR HARVEY.

CHEMISTRY 4. Organic Chemistry. A lecture course with laboratory work. The lectures cover the general principles of organic chemistry and a description of typical compounds. The laboratory work includes ultimate organic analysis, the determination of some of the important physical constants, and organic preparations. The methods followed are those given in Cohen's Practical Organic Chemistry or some standard work of similar scope. Prerequisites: Chemistry 2 and 3.

PROFESSOR HARVEY.

Geology

The purpose of the course in Geology is to set forth clearly the present status of knowledge relative to the science. The theoretical and interpretative elements enter in and help to clear up hypothetical elements and also to stimulate thought. Half of the time is given to laboratory work including the examination and study of topographical maps, folios, and other publications of the United States Geological Survey, and of minerals and fossils. Field work is emphasized. A thesis of two thousand words on some assigned subject is required of each student. The classification of plants, animals, and rocks is included. Prerequisites: Physics 2; Chemistry 2. Text: Norton's Geology.

PROFESSOR WARDLAW.

Biology

ZOOLOGY 1. This is an introductory course in General Zoology having for its aim the threefold purpose of emphasizing the fundamental principles of zoology as a part of a liberal education, of serving as a prerequisite for students of Pure Science, and of being especially important for students contemplating the study of medicine. Text: Parker and Haswell's Manual of Zoology.

PROFESSOR O. L. JOHNSON.

ZOOLOGY 2. VERTEBRATE. Comparative Anatomy and General Embryology. This course is designed to meet the needs of those students of pure science who may wish to teach and as a requirement for the study of Medicine. Text: Parker and Haswell, Vertebrate Zoology. Lillie, Development of Chick. Prerequisite Zoology 1. PROFESSOR O. L. JOHNSON.

BOTANY 2. This course covers briefly the vegetative world, giving special emphasis to Plant Physiology, Morphology, Ecology, Evolution, and Economic Botany. The course is designed to meet the needs of the students who may desire to teach and those who contemplate the study of Medicine or Pharmacy. Text: Bergen and Davis' Principles of Botany.

PROFESSOR O. L. JOHNSON.

PHYSIOLOGY 2. This course, somewhat apart from the purely descriptive physiology, presupposes such a course. It is concerned primarily with the normal functioning of the human body, meeting the needs of those who plan teaching, serving as a prerequisite to the study of Mental Sciences as well as giving students of Pure Science exact knowledge of the structure of the human body. Text: Hough and Sedgwick's Human Mechanism (subject to change in 1920-21).

PROFESSOR O. L. JOHNSON.

PHYSIOLOGY 3. Advanced Practical Physiology.

A course for teachers and students who contemplate the study of Medicine. Text: R. Burton-Opitz, Practical Physiology. Prerequisite Physiology II. (To be offered 1921-22).

Music.

PIANO COURSE IN COLLEGE DEPARTMENT. Students before entering this course are required to be sufficiently advanced to begin Czerny's "Studies in Velocity" Op. 299. Two private lessons in Piano-forte each week, Czerny Studies, Pischna Technic, Lebert and Stark advanced scales, Classic Sonatas, Class lesson in ensemble playing, Class lessons in Theory (Emery's "Elements of Harmony"), Class lessons in History (Hamilton's "Outlines of Music History"), Public performance.

PROFESSOR HARRELD.

VIOLIN COURSE IN COLLEGE DEPARTMENT. Only students who have finished preliminary work to Kreutzer Studies are admitted to this class. Two private lessons in Violin, Kreutzer Studies of Fiorilla Studies, Sauret Scales, Sevcik Technic, Siegfriedt Eberhardt's Studies in Shifting, Schubert Sonatinas, Handel Sonatas, One Classic Violin Concerto, Orchestra or Ensemble, Class lessons in Theory (Emery's "Elements of Harmony"), Class lessons in Music History (Hamilton's "Outlines of Music History").

PROFESSOR HARRELD.

MUSIC HISTORY AND APPRECIATION COURSE IN COLLEGE DEPARTMENT. Two Class lessons in Music History, Short Course in Theory, Victrola

Course in Appreciation, Papers on Music subjects, Instruments of the Orchestra.

PROFESSOR HARRELD.

COMMUNITY CHORUS DIRECTING. Conducting, Short study in Vocal Culture, Hymn Authors, Hymn Composers, Standard Hymns, Gospel Hymns, Folk Songs, Popular Songs, Chorus, Solo Singing, Breathing, Health Hints.

PROFESSOR HARRELD.

Manual Training.

A special course is offered as an elective to students above the Freshman year, being designed primarily for the training of those who may be called upon to teach the subject. The course includes the arrangement, names and care of tools, cardboard construction, knife-work, exercises in sawing and planing, the designing and construction of small articles, mechanical drawing, and the planning and making of furniture. (To be given whenever there are as many as four applicants.)

Entrance.

Students who regularly complete the work of the eighth grade at Morehouse College automatically pass into the Academy. In the case of all others examinations are given as far as may seem necessary. Every candidate for the first year should thoroughly have completed the work in Arithmetic, Grammar, Advanced Geography, Reading, and United States History required in the eighth grade of a standard grammar school. It is very necessary that students enter promptly at the beginning of the school year. If they do not they are not allowed to take regular work.

Courses.

The aim is to increase the latitude in the arrangement of programs of study in the Academy. Every program offered for the completion of the course, however, must contain sixteen full units (a unit being the work done in a class reciting daily throughout the year), aside from the work required in Music and Bible. Furthermore, in the sixteen units there must in any case finally be four in English, two in foreign language (Latin), two in Mathematics, one in History and one in Natural Science (Physics or Chemistry). These ten units are required of all students whether classical or scientific. Six units are thus left for the working of the elective principle. Students are warned, especially in the third and fourth years, to arrange these in conference with the Dean in view of their plans for the future. A failure to plan wisely might later result in the loss of a year. A strictly classical student (one looking toward the ministry or the teaching of any language) would take a total of 4 units in Latin and 2 in Greek. A prospective law student should take 4 in Latin, not necessarily any in Greek, but all the History possible. A future student of medicine or dentistry should in any case include Physiology and Chemistry in his program. One who wishes to work later in applied science (that is, agriculture, engineering, mechanics, etc.) should by all means take Manual Training, Physics and Chemistry, and in most cases Physiology also.

On the basis of 16 units required for the course, each student should complete each year 4 full units, aside from the work in Music and Bible. Thus the student entering the fourth year should already have to his credit 12 units. No student will be catalogued with the class above if delinquent in more than 1 unit.

DEPARTMENTS OF INSTRUCTION

English

The instruction given in English has three distinct objects: Proficiency in English composition, skill in public address, and the development of literary appreciation. Composition is emphasized throughout the course. In addition to the regular work in course, each student in the fourth year class must appear in regular rhetorical exercises before the whole school. Students in the first, second and third year classes must appear before their respective classes in regular rhetorical exercises.

The following list of books (mainly in the Riverside Literature Series published by the Houghton Mifflin Co.) gives those which are required of each student for individual use in class, and also those for outside reading. Of books for outside reading the college library keeps on reserve extra copies available for use in the different classes.

FIRST YEAR

REQUIRED

- Lockwood and Emerson: Composition and Rhetoric
Hawthorne: The Great Stone Face, and The Great Carbuncle
Burroughs: Sharp Eyes, and other papers
Longfellow: The Courtship of Miles Standish

OUTSIDE READING

Dickens: A Christmas Carol
 Van Dyke: The Story of the Other Wise Man
 Helen Keller: The Story of my Life

SECOND YEAR

REQUIRED

Irving: The Sketch Book (selections)
 Bryant: Thanatopsis and other poems
 Poe: The Raven and other poems
 Longfellow: Autobiographical Poems
 Longfellow: Evangeline
 Lowell: The Vision of Sir Launfal
 Whittier: Snowbound
 Washington: Farewell Address
 Webster: Bunker Hill Oration
 Lincoln: Selections

OUTSIDE READING

Hughes: Tom Brown's School Days
 Cooper: The Last of the Mohicans
 Hale: The Man Without a Country
 Churchill: The Crisis

THIRD YEAR

REQUIRED

Shakespeare: The Merchant of Venice
 Shakespeare: Julius Caesar
 Gray: Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard
 Goldsmith: The Deserted Village
 Goldsmith: The Vicar of Wakefield

Scott: The Lady of the Lake
 Coleridge: The Rime of the Ancient Mariner
 Byron: The Prisoner of Chillon, and other poems

OUTSIDE READING

Franklin: Autobiography
 Mary Antin: At School in the Promised Land
 Scott: Ivanhoe
 Stevenson: Treasure Island

FOURTH YEAR

REQUIRED

Miller's Practical Composition, Book IV
 Macaulay: Life of Johnson
 Shakespeare: Macbeth
 Milton: Minor Poems
 "Selected Essays" (edited by C. M. Fuess)
 "New Era Declamations" (edited by Benjamin Brawley)

OUTSIDE READING

Tennyson: Idylls of the King (selections)
 "Short Stories" (edited by L. B. Moulton)
 Brawley: The Negro in Literature and Art
 Library Selections from Riley, Noyes, Masefield,
 Markham, Van Dyke, Dunbar, etc.

Latin

The object of instruction in Greek and Latin is to give the letter and spirit of the classics, and to improve English expression. With this purpose in view, word forms, word groups and idioms are studied.

Attention is given to English words of Greek or Latin origin. Translation is required in easy, idiomatic English, and the courses are further enhanced by historical reference and art illustration. The work of the four years of Latin in the Classical Course is as follows:

LATIN 1. In the first year daily drill is given in the fundamentals of Latin grammar, selections in Latin authors of increasing difficulty being read in the later months of the course. Text: Collar and Daniell's First Year Latin.

LATIN 2. Cæsar's Commentaries, 4 Books, with practice in Composition.

LATIN 3. Cicero: 4 Orations against Catiline, and oration Pro Poeta Archia. Sallust's Catiline. Composition.

LATIN 4. Virgil's Aeneid, 6 Books. Composition.

Greek

GREEK 1. In the third year of the Classical Course Elementary Greek is given. Text: White's First Greek Book.

GREEK 2. Xenophon's Anabasis, 4 books, with practice in composition. Required in the fourth year of the Classical Course.

Mathematics

ALGEBRA 1. Throughout the first year daily instruction is given in the fundamentals of Algebra. Text: Wells and Hart's Algebra for Secondary Schools.

GEOMETRY 1. A full year of Plane Geometry is given, in the second year for classical students and in the third year for Scientific. Text: Wentworth and Smith's Plane Geometry.

GEOMETRY 2 AND TRIGONOMETRY. Half-courses in Solid Geometry and Plane Trigonometry in fourth year of Scientific Course. Texts: Wentworth and Smith's Solid Geometry, revised, and Wells' New Plane Trigonometry.

History and Civics

Three half-courses in History and Civics are offered in the earlier years of the Academy as follows:

(1) CIVICS. An elementary half-course in Civil Government is designed to impress the fundamental principles of American government. Text: Boynton's Civics.

(2) GREEK AND ROMAN HISTORY. With the specific purpose of supplementing the work in Latin, and with the still larger purpose of general culture, a half-course in the outlines of Greek and Roman History is given in the third year of the Classical Course. Text: Botsford's Ancient History.

(3) ENGLISH HISTORY. In the last half of the second year a half-course in English History is given not only to broaden the student's information but also to furnish a background for the study of the English classics to follow. Text: Montgomery's English History.

(4) GENERAL HISTORY, OR COMMERCIAL LAW. In the fourth year of the Scientific Course a course in either one of these subjects is given running throughout the year.

Physics

PHYSICS 1. This course is offered in such a way as to bring out the relation of Physics to daily life. It embraces physical measurements in Mechanics, Sound, Light, and Electricity. Four periods a week are given to laboratory work. Text: Mann and Twiss' Physics, with Wauchope's laboratory manual.

Chemistry

CHEMISTRY 1. The course comprises lectures, recitations and quizzes. Four hours a week are given to laboratory work. It is the aim to give a clear idea of the field of Descriptive Chemistry. Emphasis is laid upon the laws, theories, and applications of Chemistry. Text: McPherson and Henderson's First Course in Chemistry, with manual to accompany the text.

Botany

A full course in Botany, with laboratory and field work, is given, to be taken preferably in the first year. Text: Bergen's Elements of Botany.

Physiography

A full course in Physical Georgraphy is given, to be taken to best advantage in the first year. The work is illustrated by the projection lantern and by field and laboratory work.

Physiology

A full year course in Descriptive Physiology for either scientific or classical students. Text: Blaisdell's Life and Health.

Manual Training

The course in Manual Training presupposes a course in wood-working. The work of the year is in cabinet-making and mechanical drawing. The student designs, makes, and upholsters some piece of furniture on the Arts and Crafts style. The other work is in geometrical drawing, isometric projections, and copying from machine patterns. Text: Cross' Mechanical Drawing.

Music

Instruction in Vocal Music, with two lessons a week, is given throughout the first two years of the course. In the third year the work is continued, with emphasis on the history and theory of Music.

English Bible

Two lessons a week are given throughout the course, the object being to give a comprehensive knowledge of the whole Bible.

The English Preparatory Department is discontinued at the end of the school year 1920-1921, and beginning with the next term, October, 1921, the first year of the Academy, or ninth grade, will be the lowest class which a student may enter. Students who have passed creditably a standard eighth grade will be eligible to enter the Academy.

WINNERS OF SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

At the close of the year 1919-20, the scholarships in the College, the Academy, and the English Preparatory Department were awarded as follows:

Junior Class: First, William E. Anderson; second, Wellington G. Dixon.

Freshman Class: First, Howard W. Thurman; second, Edward S. Hope.

Fourth Year: First, Ads W. Plump; second, Kimuel A. Huggins.

Third Year: Vaughn C. Payne.

Second Year: William B. Scott.

First Year: Willis Dunn.

A Class: Rosefelt Roe, McKinley Neal.

B Class: Fred H. Davie.

Cash prizes were awarded as follows:

Willard Chamberlin Scripture Reading Prize

A prize of thirty dollars awarded to Londell C. Deloney of the Senior Class.

Samuel Graves Scripture Recitation Prize

A prize of thirty dollars awarded to Nathaniel Tillman of the Senior Class.

F. J. Paxon Prizes in Oratory and Elocution.

A prize of ten dollars for that student in the College who shall deliver the best oration. Awarded to Londell C. Deloney of the Senior Class.

A prize of five dollars for that student in the Academy who shall deliver the best declamation. Awarded to Obie Collins of the Third Year Class.

J. J. Starks Prize for the Best Man of Affairs

A prize of ten dollars awarded to Nathaniel Tillman of the Senior Class.

Edgar Allan Poe Short Story Prize

A prize of ten dollars awarded to Howard W. Thurman of the Freshman Class.

Walter R. Chivers Prize.

A prize of fifteen dollars to that student who shall do the best research work, either practical or theoretical in the social sciences. Awarded to Harper C. Trenholm of the Senior Class.
